

The ESM and the proposed EMF: a comparison

This paper presents the main aspects of the Council Regulation proposed by the Commission in the context of the December 2017 EMU Package. It includes a comparison of the ESM Treaty and the Statute of the proposed EMF.

The European Stability Mechanism was established in 2012 outside of the EU framework by an intergovernmental treaty as mechanism aimed at safeguarding the financial stability of the euro area. The EGOV paper on the ESM presents more information.

The ESM provides loans to Euro Area Member States facing financial distress, conditionally to the implementation of policy measures. It borrows money on financial markets, guaranteed by around 700 billion Euros as authorized capital by its 19 member States participants.

The European Parliament reiterated on several occasions that it is in favour of the incorporation of the ESM into the EU legal framework provided that there is appropriate democratic accountability (e.g. EP resolution in 2013 and EP resolution in 2017).

The Commission proposal

In December 2017 the Commission presented a proposal for a Council Regulation on the establishment of the European Monetary Fund (for a comparison between ESM and IMF, please see this EGOV paper). The proposal would make the EMF a unique body of EU law, governed by its own board of Directors and board of Governors, the latter being composed of the Minister of Finance (the Chairperson is the President of the Eurogroup).

The proposed Council Regulation includes, as an Annex, the Statute of the EMF, which is very similar to the current ESM Treaty, maintaining the same structure and provisions as much as possible, modifying it mainly in order to maintain consistency with the actual EU legal framework.

The legal basis for the Commission proposal is Article 352 of the TFEU, which entails a special legislative procedure, requiring a unanimous vote of all the Member States in the Council and the consent of the European Parliament.

Innovations with respect to the current ESM are introduced both in the text of the Regulation and in the annexed Statute.

The text of the regulation covers aspects concerning the establishment of the EMF and its accountability, notably:

- The establishment of the EMF and its replacement of the ESM in legal acts of the Union;
- In order to comply with EU jurisprudence (e.g. the Meroni case), Article 3.1 of the proposed regulation requires that the Council approves a series of decision taken by the EMF boards. In these cases, the Council votes by qualified majority (Article 238.3 TFEU);
- According to Article 5 the EMF will present annual reports on the execution of its tasks, its annual accounts and financial statements to the EP, and will have to answer oral and written questions, on top of being heard by the competent committees. Confidential oral discussions behind closed doors are also foreseen (Article 5.5). Moreover, the EP will be consulted in the selection of the Managing Director by the Council;
- National parliaments will also receive the annual reports, will be able to ask questions and invite the Managing Director (Article 6). Such double form of accountability increases the transparency of the EMF towards both the EP and national taxpayers financing the EMF.

The annexed Statute covers other aspects as a new financial instrument and governance, as specified below. The overleaf table in this document presents a comparison of the ESM Treaty and the proposed EFM Statute. It shows that the main proposed innovations are as follows:

- The EMF would serve as a fiscally neutral common backstop to the Single Resolution Fund; support to the SRB can be provided also by participating non-Euro Area Member States (Article 22) in the framework of the second pillar of Banking Union;
- Unanimity remains for decisions with financial impact (capital calls), however a new qualified reinforced majority (85% of the votes) is proposed for decisions on stability support, disbursement and the deployment of the backstop. (Articles 16 to 18)
- References to cooperation with the IMF are removed from the Statute. The Commission instead gains more competences regarding conditionality: the debt sustainability analysis (DSI) will be conducted by the Commission in liaison with the ECB. Moreover, in case of the granting of stability support, a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) will be signed by both Commission and EMF, whereas currently the Commission signs it on behalf of the ESM.

Reactions so far

Both the Eurogroup (in December 2017 and in March 2018) and the Euro Summit (in December 2017 and March 2018) shared their views on the necessity to further develop the ESM, yet details still have to be discussed.

In a recent interview (19 February 2018) the Managing Director of the ESM Klaus Regling supported the idea of including the ESM into EU law: “What I would like for the ESM is a role similar to the European Investment Bank – it is expressly mentioned in the EU Treaty, but is relatively independent of the Commission and largely controlled by the Member States”.
