

Resolution 2430 (2022)<sup>1</sup>

Beyond the Lisbon Treaty: strengthening the strategic partnership between the Council of Europe and the European Union

Parliamentary Assembly

1. In 2009, the entry into force of the Treaty of Lisbon ushered the European Union into a new phase of European integration, placing democracy and respect for the rule of law and human rights at the forefront of the European Union's policies. This emphasis on issues which are at the core of the mandate of the Council of Europe created greater opportunities for co-operation between the two organisations. Since then, the Council of Europe and the European Union have consolidated the strategic partnership foreseen by the 2007 Memorandum of Understanding between the Council of Europe and the European Union, which was based on the three pillars of enhanced political dialogue, stronger legal co-operation and a wide range of joint co-operation programmes.

2. In 2022, the Russian Federation's aggression against Ukraine and the ensuing exclusion of the Russian Federation from the Council of Europe confirm the importance of continuing to work to promote democratic security and reframe the co-operation between the Council of Europe and the European Union from a new perspective. In the light of the epochal changes that Europe is experiencing, the Parliamentary Assembly calls for a renewed impetus towards strengthening the strategic partnership between the Council of Europe and the European Union on the basis of their shared values and commitment to promoting peace, security and stability on the European continent and supporting multilateralism worldwide.

3. In order to reinforce the democratic security of European States, it has become imperative and urgent to reverse the backsliding of democracy, protect the integrity of democratic processes against external interference and innovate the functioning of democratic institutions, notably through greater citizen engagement. The choice of "A new push for European democracy" as one of its six political priorities and the adoption of the "European Democracy Action Plan" show a clear understanding of this need on the part of the European Commission. Similarly, the Conference on the Future of Europe, the first exercise of participatory democracy at European Union level, has explored new ways to involve ordinary citizens in the European Union's decision-making process.

4. Strong and resilient democracies are based on scrupulous respect for the rule of law. The Assembly takes note of the panoply of tools that the European Union has put in place, since the entry into force of the Treaty of Lisbon, to tackle threats to the rule of law in its member States. Taking note that all European Union member States are also Council of Europe member States, the Assembly welcomes the active involvement of the Council of Europe in the preparation of the European Union's "Rule of law report" and invites the European Union to rely even more extensively on the Council of Europe's expertise, benchmarking and findings in the context of the manifold mechanisms which the European Union has set up in this area.

5. As set out in the Statute of the Council of Europe (ETS No. 1), genuine democracies are based on respect for individual freedoms and political liberties. By establishing the European Union's legal personality, the Treaty of Lisbon created a solid basis for developing a coherent legal space in Europe, enabling the

---

1. Assembly debate on 26 April 2022 (11th sitting) (see Doc. 15495, report of the Committee on Political Affairs and Democracy, rapporteur: Mr Titus Corlăţean). Text adopted by the Assembly on 26 April 2022 (11th sitting).
See also Recommendation 2226 \(2022\).

European Union to adhere to Council of Europe conventions and participate in Council of Europe mechanisms. The Treaty of Lisbon also upgraded the status of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union to a European Union Treaty and made the accession of the European Union to the European Convention on Human Rights (ETS No. 5, the Convention) a legal obligation.

6. The Assembly welcomes the resumption, in 2020, of the negotiations on the European Union's accession to the European Convention on Human Rights and notes with satisfaction that moving forward with this process is a priority for the European Union and the Council of Europe, as indicated in the Strategic Framework of the Council of Europe 2022-2025. The Assembly reaffirms its confidence that accession will help guarantee coherence and consistency between European Union law and the Convention system and will lead to a single legal space in which the European Union is also subject to the European Convention on Human Rights.

7. Since the entry into force of the Treaty of Lisbon, the European Union has acceded to the Council of Europe Convention on the Prevention of Terrorism (CETS No. 196) and its Additional Protocol (CETS No. 217) and participates, in different capacities, in several partial agreements, including the Group of States against Corruption (GRECO) and the Council of Europe International Co-operation Group on Drugs and Addictions (Pompidou Group). The Assembly welcomes these developments and looks forward to the Council of Europe and the European Union further strengthening and formalising their legal co-operation, with a view to avoiding duplication of effort and preventing the emergence of diverging legal standards in Europe.

8. As regards the European Union's enlargement, a number of Council of Europe member States, including Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro, North Macedonia, Serbia and Turkey, while at different stages in the procedure, have expressed their wish to join the European Union. In the aftermath of the Russian Federation's aggression against Ukraine, Ukraine itself, the Republic of Moldova and Georgia have submitted similar requests. The Assembly underlines that the prospect of European Union membership represents a factor of stability in Europe, especially in the light of the new geopolitical context. At the same time, it calls on the Council of Europe to redouble its efforts to help its member States wishing to join the European Union to make tangible and measurable progress towards meeting the necessary criteria.

9. In the current multipolar geopolitical system, relations between major powers have become increasingly confrontational and unilateral. The Assembly shares the conviction expressed by the European Commission in its "Joint Communication to the European Parliament and the Council on strengthening the EU's contribution to rules-based multilateralism" that multilateralism based on common rules is the best way to preserve peace and stability, and resolutely supports the drive for the European Union to have a stronger voice on the international stage.

10. In view of these considerations, while reiterating its previous resolutions on relations between the Council of Europe and the European Union, the Assembly invites the European Union to:

10.1. ensure synergy and complementarity with the Council of Europe with a view to enhancing democratic security by strengthening democracy, the rule of law and the protection of human rights in Europe and projecting these values outside Europe through their external relations and neighbourhood policies;

10.2. step up political and technical consultation and concertation with the Council of Europe with a view to ensuring convergence of purpose while avoiding duplication and inconsistencies;

10.3. regularly take into account the Council of Europe's role as the benchmark for democracy, human rights and the rule of law in Europe while preparing and implementing initiatives in these fields;

10.4. intensify political dialogue with the Council of Europe in the area of the rule of law and make greater use of the Council of Europe's expertise, benchmarking and findings in the context of the wide range of existing European Union mechanisms and tools regarding the rule of law;

10.5. pursue with resolve the negotiations aimed at achieving the accession of the European Union to the European Convention on Human Rights;

10.6. examine, in consultation with the Council of Europe, the possibility for the European Union to accede to other key Council of Europe conventions which tackle the major challenges facing European societies, including the European Social Charter (revised) (ETS No. 163), and continue its efforts in view of securing the necessary support for the accession of the European Union to the Council of Europe Convention on Preventing and Combating Violence against Women and Domestic Violence (CETS No. 210);

- 10.7. consider involving the Council of Europe, as appropriate, in the follow-up to the Conference on the Future of Europe;
  - 10.8. continue strengthening co-operation with the Council of Europe in the context of the implementation of the European Democracy Action Plan and, in general, of the European Commission's priority "A new push for European democracy" to ensure convergence of action;
  - 10.9. develop structural dialogue and concertation with the Council of Europe in the context of the European Union enlargement process, with a view to providing more effective support to Council of Europe member States that aspire to membership of the European Union to implement and sustain the necessary reforms, and giving them a concrete prospect of accession within a reasonable timeline;
  - 10.10. involve the Assembly in the interparliamentary activities set up in the context of dialogue of the European Union with countries from the Eastern Partnership and the Western Balkans;
  - 10.11. explore the possibility of making non-earmarked contributions to the Council of Europe budget.
11. Furthermore, the Assembly takes stock of the importance which the Treaty of Lisbon has given to parliamentary democracy, with the greater powers conferred upon the European Parliament in setting the European Union's political direction, the enhanced emphasis on interparliamentary co-operation and the new role of national parliaments in the European Union's decision-making process.
12. In this context, the Assembly calls on the European Parliament to:
- 12.1. give concrete follow-up to a number of proposals which have been made in previous Assembly resolutions, namely:
    - 12.1.1. the organisation of regular meetings between the respective presidents, secretaries general, chairpersons of committees and between the Presidential Committee of the Parliamentary Assembly and the Conference of Presidents of the European Parliament;
    - 12.1.2. the organisation of joint meetings and events at the level of committees and/or European Parliament delegations concerning relations with non-member States of the European Union;
    - 12.1.3. the mutual invitation of rapporteurs to provide input to each other's work;
  - 12.2. strengthen dialogue and co-ordination with the Assembly in areas which have emerged as prominent challenges for European societies, such as:
    - 12.2.1. reversing the backsliding of democracy;
    - 12.2.2. protecting the integrity of the electoral process;
    - 12.2.3. countering disinformation and protecting freedom of expression;
    - 12.2.4. preventing threats to the rule of law;
    - 12.2.5. strengthening democratic governance and good administration as a way of reinforcing the rule of law and enhancing citizens' trust in public institutions;
    - 12.2.6. strengthening the contribution of parliamentary diplomacy to supporting rules-based multilateralism;
    - 12.2.7. promoting the right to a healthy environment;
    - 12.2.8. addressing the socio-economic consequences of Covid-19;
    - 12.2.9. promoting peace and security in Europe;
  - 12.3. consider organising a joint debate on the European multilateral architecture and democratic security, and the respective roles of the Parliamentary Assembly and the European Parliament.