About IPM25 Copenhagen

EUFORES will hold its next annual cross-party Inter-parliamentary Meeting on Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency in the premises of the Parliament of Denmark in Copenhagen during the Danish EU Council Presidency.

Members of European Parliament, Members of Parliament from the EU27 Member States and neighbouring countries and all political groups are welcome to attend.

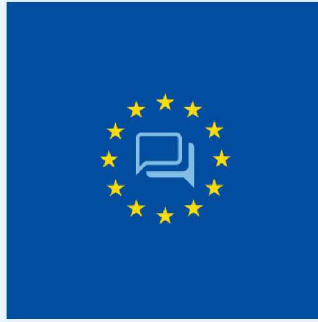

Top speakers and representatives from the EU27 national parliaments, the European Parliament, the International Energy Agency, the European Commission, industry, science and NGOs will gather to discuss the prospects of renewable energy and energy efficiency for economic growth, social integration and prosperity for the European Union – all in the light of the climate emergency, the energy crisis and the war in Ukraine.

The IPM will also offer examples from the host country Denmark with its broad experience on the energy transition.

Agenda
