

Agreement for Statistical Transfer of Energy from renewable sources

This agreement is entered into between

The Danish State, represented by the Minister of Climate, Energy and Utilities, having its seat at Holmens Kanal, 20 DK-1060 Copenhagen K, Denmark, "The Danish State"; and

The Dutch State, represented by the Minister of Economic Affairs and Climate Policy, having its seat at Bezuidenhoutseweg 73, 2594 AC The Hague, the Netherlands, "The Dutch State", Hereinafter also separately or jointly referred to as respectively the "Party" or the "Parties", "The Danish State" or "The Dutch State" or "Selling Member State" or "Buying Member State".

WHEREAS:

- 1) Parties wish to enter into an agreement for the statistical transfer of the amount(s) of energy from renewable sources as specified in this agreement from The Danish State to the Dutch State under Article 8 of Directive (EU) 2018/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 11 December 2018 on the promotion of the use of energy from renewable sources (hereafter: Directive (EU) 2018/2001).
- 2) The Danish State is developing plans for which The Danish State shall use the due amount payable by The Dutch State as the Buying Member State. The plans will be discussed between Danish and Dutch authorities. The Danish State shall use the payments for statistical transfer to finance a tender for projects aimed at developing and upscaling Power-to-X technologies in Denmark, with a particular focus on production of green hydrogen (aiming for instance at approx. 100 MW electrolysis capacity). The exact design of the tender, including plant capacity and grant allocation criteria, will be determined by the Danish authorities in a later phase. Power-to-X, i.e. a combination of different conversion technologies, that utilize renewable electricity to produce green hydrogen, which is then used directly or converted to other e-fuels, is considered a mutual interest of both parties. The statistical transfer would therefore also ensure fundamental experience and knowledge exchange between the Danish and the Dutch authorities in this area. Responsibility for the project lies with the Danish State.
